

October is LD Awareness Month Become a Volunteer Tutor today!

Stan Rosenblum has been an LDA-YR Volunteer Tutor For 10 years!

“Retirement can present an opportunity to make an investment in a child’s future. With as little as one hour a week you can help someone who is struggling with a Learning Disability. I’ve been volunteering for 10 years now with students from Grades 2 – 8. Monthly training sessions are provided where creative teaching strategies are taught by qualified teachers and ideas are shared with other tutors. The subjects vary from Math, English and Science. In my case I’ve used card games and various other games to make the sessions fun while holding the student’s attention. The parents are always supportive especially when their child has great need for one on one support and they have waited for a while for one-on one support because of their lack of resources, I don’t have a lot of money to donate to the many charities that approach me on a daily basis, but the tutoring makes me feel like I am doing my part by donating my time.”
